Obituary

Sister Joelene Harold was born on February 19, 1946 in Providence, Rhode Island to the loving parents of Joseph and Mary Brown. She attended elementary school in Jamaica, New York and later followed her brother, Frederick to Spokane, Washington, where she completed her junior and senior high school years.

Joelene and her brother were professional dancers, and they were picked to be in an Italian remake movie of the "Wizard of Oz" in 1953.

Joelene met and married Robert Harold. To this union, she had two sons: Robert, Wilkin. Later, she met and married, Kenneth Carr and had her son Brenden.

Joelene was a registered nurse.

In 1969, Joelene became a member of St. John Missionary Baptist Church under the pastorage of Pastor R. L. Johnson. She served faithfully in the Voices of St. John Choir, Children's Nursery, and Nurse Ministry. Not one to complain, she worked until her health prevented her from doing so.

Joelene was known for her tell it like it is attitude.

She was adventurous. Joelene enjoyed traveling. She visited several countries and she wasn't afraid to travel alone. On her last trip, Joelene caught the train to visit one of her properties.

After a valiant battle with kidney problems, the Lord called Joelene to rest on January 2, 2020. She passed away in her home.

Joelene is survived by her three sons, Robert, Wilkin, and Brenden Harold; one brother, Frederick and wife (Yvonne) Brown, two sisters, Shirley Barnett and Susie Pistacchio and one nephew, Marlon Brown and one great nephew, Caleb Brown. She will be greatly missed by a host of cousins and friends.

"The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness." Isaiah 57:1-2
